ERICKSON FIELDS, A PRESERVE OF MAINE COAST HERITAGE TRUST

Erickson Farm was a dairy farm for many generations, until the Erickson family stopped farming the land in the 1980s. When the Erickson Family ultimately decided they needed to sell the land they worked closely with MCHT staff in partnership with Maine Farmland Trust (MFT) to preserve the farm property. MCHT and MFT recognized the value of preserving rapidly disappearing farmland, maintaining a significant green space close to the center of Rockport village, and providing an opportunity to utilize the land as a community resource.
